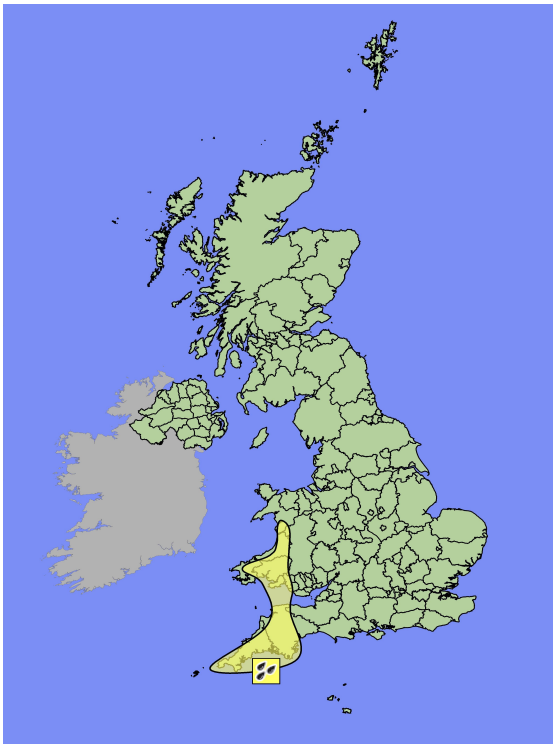
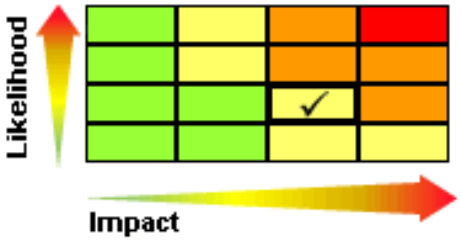
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Showers will continue to develop through Tuesday afternoon and are likely to become locally heavy and thundery giving 10 to 15 mm in an hour and perhaps 20 to 30 mm in 3 hours or less. The showers are likely to persist well into Tuesday evening. As often happens in showery situations some areas will miss the showers.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 12:45 on Tue, 12th Jun 2012 until 23:59 on Tue, 12th Jun 2012

Showers are likely to become heavy and locally thundery over parts of Wales and southwest England during Tuesday afternoon and evening. The public should be aware that these could lead to localised surface water flooding.
